Bryce Runyon

Community Manager at CV Outreach

Bryce Runyon serves as community manager at CV Outreach, where he oversees the team responsible for onboarding and maintaining church partnerships in the organization's Social Partners and Ad Grant programs. Currently, Bryce's team manages relationships with over 1,000 churches on behalf of CV Outreach.

After receiving his Bachelor of Arts in Intercultural Studies, Bryce served as a church planter and disciple maker overseas. He served for seven years in North Africa, where he saw many individuals come to faith, planted churches and became fluent in Arabic.

Bryce returned to the United States in 2015. Soon after, Bryce joined the CV Outreach team and developed the process of onboarding church partners.

Bryce and his wife reside in McKinney, Texas.

Chad Hugghins

Marketing and Content Manager at CV North America

Chad Hugghins serves as marketing and content manager at CV North America. He is passionate about the organization's goal of leveraging both creativity and analytics to maximize the effectiveness of strategic initiatives to reach people with the Gospel.

Chad received a degree in Theater from Southern Methodist University, after which he pursued an acting career in Hollywood before transitioning to ministry. The highlight of his experience in the entertainment industry was portraying the role of Harmon McCoy in the Emmy and Golden Globe-winning television show, "Hatfields and McCoys."

After deciding to lend his experience with new media to ministry, Chad joined Joshua Expeditions, a non-profit Christian student travel company, to develop a media department before joining CV Outreach.

Chad and his family live in McKinney, Texas.
